My concept or premise is to find or write music that sounds like a college band or maybe a small ensemble because he is at a school. There will also be dialogue when he is walking up the stairs? There should be music that is fun or upbeat up until sec19 when he sits down. When he sits down the music should change or tone because he has now arrived at his destination and seems natural to change chord progression or transition to a new rhythm. The music should be quiet when he picked up the phone which is sec39. There can still be music just not interrupting the dialogue. There should be ADR ask classmates who can do a short ADR. The music should start to fade in causally at sec58 and fade out until the scene is over. The target genre could be jazz.				Voiceover ADR Mic- AKG or Warm Audio?
